

The Proven Platform for Transforming the Practice and Business of Retail Pharmacy

The One Platform You Need to Transform the Practice and Business of Retail Pharmacy

COVID-19 has caused profound changes to the healthcare system. One of the most far-reaching of those changes is the increasingly central role that community pharmacies now play in healthcare. Local pharmacies have become trusted and convenient healthcare destinations, providing a growing range of vital care services, from administering life-saving vaccines and point-of-care testing, to conducting wellness programs, drug therapy counseling and more.

To continue this vital shift toward pharmacy transformation, significant progress will need to be made in reducing administrative and operational burdens, which frees up pharmacists to focus on patient-centric care. For example, pharmacists waste a significant amount of time and effort switching back and forth between numerous, disconnected technology platforms to accomplish their critical healthcare tasks. What if your pharmacists could seamlessly operate on just one proven technology platform to efficiently engage patients, deliver high-value clinical services and maximize financial results?

Introducing Enliven360

Enliven360 from EnlivenHealth[®] is the first and only technology platform enabling your pharmacy staff to manage all communications, clinical, financial, and analytic tasks in one convenient place. Enliven360 combines EnlivenHealth's Clinical, Patient Engagement, Financial, and Insights Analytics solutions integrated into a single platform that empowers your pharmacies to automate and optimize patient engagement, deliver high-value clinical services, and maximize financial results.

With single sign-on access to all EnlivenHealth's tools and solutions on one integrated platform, your pharmacists can now focus their valuable time and efforts to provide personalized care that keeps patients healthy and loyal. Enliven360 reduces the number of steps needed to complete key pharmacy tasks, allowing your pharmacists to practice at the top of their license and deliver the kinds of clinical services that improve patient adherence and health outcomes while driving script growth and profitability.

Taking a Holistic View to Pharmacy Patient Care

Imagine if you had the ability to interact with your pharmacy patients in a more holistic way rather than just dealing with them based on disconnected transactions, such as dispensing medications one day and administering vaccines on another occasion. Enliven360 gives pharmacists the ability to provide patients with more holistic and coordinated care by integrating together EnlivenHealth's comprehensive suite of patient engagement, clinical, financial, and analytics technology solutions. Having this one unified, integrated platform takes pharmacy transformation to a new level of impact and convenience.
